Norwegians Report Bergen Recaptured from Germans

NORWAY FIGHTS OFF DRIVE OF NAZIS IN NORTH

Norse Soldiers Now in Full Cooperation with Britain Against Invaders.

By The Associated Press
STOCKHOLM, April 11—A radio message from the Norwegian commander at Bergen today reported that support had been recaptured from the German invaders.

Other sources reported German planes had circled the Kongsvinger railway station, dropping light bombs.

Reports pouring into Sweden said the Norwegians were blasting bridges to make German advances difficult, and cut off German forces already in possession of Norwegian territory.

Norway, ordering her troops to cooperate with the British-French allies, was hastily fortifying every defense point and arming workers, members of rifle clubs, and military school pupils to help defend the nation.

HOLLAND TRIAL IN SECOND DAY

Piqua Man Testifies Former Marionite Induced Him To Start Mill Fire.

Special to The Star
TROY, O., April 11—William Dowty, youthful Piqua mill worker, yesterday stuck to his story that Gustav A. Holland, former Marion man, had induced him to start the $100,000 Holland Mills fire for which Holland is on trial here on an arson charge.

Dowty, who worked for Holland when Holland was manager of the burned mill, declared that Holland suggested several times that it would be a good thing if the mill was put out of business. Dowty said that at the time the alleged suggestions were made Holland had quit the Holland Mills and had started the Holland Pioneer Mills in competition.

Nine Marion men are subpoenaed by the defense as character witnesses.

Testifying this morning was an official of the Glidden Paint Co., of Cleveland who traced Holland's connection with the burned mill.

Seventy supervisors of WPA professional and service projects in Marion and nearby counties opened a two-day conference this morning at Hotel Harding.

Those attending are in charge of "white collar" and women's projects in Marion, Wyandot, Crawford, Morrow, Richland, Delaware and Hardin counties.

BRITONS CHEER TALES OF LOSS BY NAZI FLEET

London Pieces Together Account of Epic Events in Battles Off Norway.

By The Associated Press
LONDON, April 11—Tales of destruction wreaked on the German fleet in farflung battles off Norway, with Oslo reported under the muzzles of British naval guns and Bergen and Trondheim seized from the Nazis, brought cheer today to Britons who fought air raids on their own shores.

While an informed British naval source early today warned that there was no confirmation of successes at Oslo, Bergen and Trondheim and a landing at Narvik, the mass of unofficial accounts from a variety of sources gave this mosaic picture of events:

Four German cruisers, three or four large German transports and a destroyer were sunk, all with heavy loss of life, in the heavy night fighting off Norway's southern shores, centering in the Skagerrak and at the mouth of the Kattegat.

British warships blasted through Oslo fjord and commanded the Germans who captured the Norwegian capital Tuesday to surrender or be bombarded.

Oslo Airport Bombed

There was no further word on the outcome, but a traveler who reached Stockholm said British-French planes bombed the Oslo airport last night.

Carl J. Hambro, president of the Norwegian parliament, said British landing parties had captured both Bergen and Trondheim, important Nazi-held ports on the Atlantic.

British marines landed at the northern iron ore port of Narvik after an initial withdrawal.

Hard-fighting Norwegians recaptured Hamar, the town 80 miles north of Oslo which was the provisional capital until the Germans took it.

King Haakon and Premier Nygaardsvold of Norway proclaimed from their refuge at Elverum continued resistance to the German invasion and rejection of Germany's demand for recognition of a Nazi puppet government.

German bombers caused raging fires in attacks on Brannem, Drobek and Oskarsborg, towns on Oslo fjord.

Tromsø, on Norway's northern coast, broadcast an urgent radio appeal for help against German troops being landed from two warships at Aalesund on the southwest.

Report Emden Sunk

Reports from several sources credited the 1,596-ton Norwegian mine-layer and training ship Olaf Trygvasson with sinking Germany's 5,400-ton cruiser Emden, possibly in Oslo fjord.

Further evidence that the Norwegians were putting up a grim battle came in a Reuters report that the Norwegian destroyer Aeger sank a German transport off Stavanger yesterday and was in turn sunk by bombing planes.

Norwegian coastal guns were credited with helping the British fight their way through Oslo fjord. These southern batteries were admitted by the Germans yesterday to have caused destruction of the 10,000-ton heavy cruiser Bluecher and the 6,000-ton cruiser Karlsruhe.

Stockholm reports said the great battle of the Skagerrak raged throughout the night, with the rumble of cannon shaking houses on the Swedish shore while giant searchlights swept the skies.

TWO COLLISIONS OCCUR ON BRIDGE AT CARDINGTON

Similar Accidents Happen Two Hours Apart.

Two almost identical traffic mishaps in a bridge at Cardington yesterday resulted in damage to four automobiles.

State Patrolman W. C. Corder of Marion who investigated said the accidents occurred about two hours apart yesterday afternoon and that both resulted from two cars attempting to pass in the bridge. The bridge is located on Route 42 in the Cardington business district.

In the first accident, cars driven by A. E. Day of Newwalk and Chester O. Allen of Newwalk were side-swiped while in the second, cars driven by Warren E. Hockett of Cleveland and E. E. Zisch of Bay Village, near Cleveland, collided head-on. Patrolman Corder reported. No one was hurt in either accident.

$460,000 Available to Marion Co. Farmers in 1940 Federal Program

1,400 Already Signed To Share in U. S. Benefits; Deadline for Applying Is May 1.

Marion county farmers, if they cooperate 100 per cent in the federal government's farm program this year, can earn a maximum of $460,000 in benefit payments, the county AAA committee estimated today. The estimate is about the same as last year's.

According to advance indications, the extent of cooperation this year will be approximately on a par with last year when Marion county farmers received a little more than $300,000 for their participation.

More than 1,400 farmers have already indicated they expect to take part in the 1940 program, C. P. Harper, county AAA chairman, reported. The signers represent 90 per cent of the county's farmers.

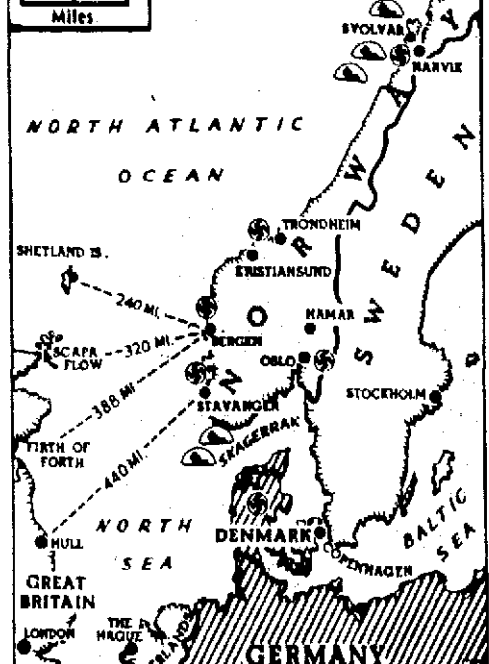

May 1 Deadline

The remaining farmers have until May 1 to express their intention of joining in the program by making out and signing a "farm plan" for their farm. They may contact their local committee man or AAA office at 229 East Church street in person or by mail to signify their intention to cooperate. No extension of the May 1 deadline is expected.

Mr. Harper urged all farmers to complete and sign "farm plans" as soon as possible since no conservation payments or other parity payments will be made on any farm for which a plan was not completed by May 1.

Last year more than 1,000 farmers signed 75 per cent of the county's farm plans. This year the county expects to have 1,400 farmers sign 90 per cent of the county's farm plans.

RUSSIA SHIFTS TROOPS SOUTH

More Moved to Odessa, 25 Miles from Rumanian Bessarabia Border.

By The Associated Press
BUCHAREST, April 11—Large numbers of Soviet Russian troop reinforcements were reported today to have moved into the Odessa region from the north. Odessa, on the Black sea, lies about 25 miles from the Rumanian Bessarabia border.

The reports, reaching this capital from the frontier region, could not be confirmed on this side of the border.

(Russia lost Bessarabia to Rumania in the post-World War territorial changes and has never renounced her claim to it.)

Supply Decree Issued

Meanwhile the Rumanian government issued a decree that all national defense factories must immediately store supplies for use in case of general mobilization.

Supplies must be sufficient for 15 days, the decree said.

At the same time an embargo was put on export of ammunition to Germany, which previously has bought almost the entire Rumanian crop to replace her deficiency in tanks.

The government issued a formal denial of what it called "wild reports" that three German-bound Danube river freight boats had been sunk by explosions.

The freely-expressed fear in the Balkans that Germany might move into southeastern Europe was heightened by the comments of numerous British and French officials in the Near East that allied forces were unable at present to resist effectively.

These officials said the British-French armies in the Near East were strong enough to defeat that area but were not yet prepared for any major expedition across those borders.

They said the British army which could be sent out of Palestine only, by sea and by air, would be sent to the Near East. They said the British army would be sent to the Near East. They said the British army would be sent to the Near East.

BERLIN, April 11—German troops who occupied Oslo were said today to have stumbled upon 80 new American Curtiss planes and were thought thereby to have opened the door to many up-to-date American military secrets. BERLIN, April 11—"Several" Norwegian battalions, including 80 officers, were disarmed and 500 rifles and four cannon were taken as booty in a sudden German attack on Elverum, temporary refuge of Norway's King Haakon, the German news agency, D.N.B., said today.

Nazis Claim Two British Ships Sunk

By The Associated Press
BERLIN, April 11—German naval forces last night sank two more allied destroyers at the west fjord approach to Narvik, the official German news agency, D.N.B., reported today.

The agency said the newest sinkings brought to six the total of allied destroyers sunk in the Narvik region.

(Britain has acknowledged losing four destroyers in naval warfare off Norway, two of them at Narvik.)

The agency did not say whether the newest losses had been inflicted by warships or coastal defense guns.

Germany was steadily tightening her list of iron on Norway, authorized German-controlled today, and denying the allies to loosen her hold.

Bay Forces Consolidated

"German positions throughout Norway are so thoroughly consolidated," these sources asserted, "that there is not the remotest possibility they could be dislodged by English and French forces."

They pictured a steady stream of German soldiers being transported to the northern kingdom to strengthen the forces landed Tuesday at strategic points.

Authorized sources then made the most categorical denial of reports of an extensive sea battle.

"In only two places did the German air force have encounters with the British fleet (yesterday)," they said, "but reports of a clash of major forces of the navy are wholly unfounded."

"Our transports continued crossing the Skagerrak unmolested until the Norwegian situation was completely in control."

Amid German celebration of "victory" over the British in projection of the Nazi foothold in Norway, the British fleet (yesterday) was said to have been "driven back" to the Skagerrak.

Churchill Reviews Fighting at Sea

By The Associated Press
LONDON, April 11—Winston Churchill today told the house of commons "great losses have been suffered by the German navy" in a continuing air and naval battle launched by Germany's invasion of Norway.

"We have greatly gained by what has occurred in Scandinavia and northern waters in the strategic and military sense," he said.

"Hitler has made a great strategic and political error as Napoleon when he invaded Spain."

"At the present nearly a dozen ships, some of large tonnage, have been sunk or captured either in the Skagerrak or the Kattegat or in attempting to bring supplies to forces landed at Narvik," Churchill declared.

Reynaud Claims 18

(Premier Reynaud speaking in Paris at the same time declared that 18 German ships, including four cruisers, had been sunk in battles in Norwegian waters in the Skagerrak.)

Lists Ship Losses

By The Associated Press
LONDON, April 11—Naval losses as detailed by Winston Churchill before commons today follow:

British—Destroyer Glowworm, sunk by two German destroyers; destroyer Gurkha, sunk by aerial bombs; battleship Rodney, hit by bomb, seven men injured; battle cruiser Renown, pierced by two German shells; cruiser Aurora, damaged by bombs. He did not mention the destroyers Hunter and Hardy, lost in the battle of Narvik yesterday.

German—One submarine sunk by destroyer Zulu off the Orkneys; indicated damage to the battleship Schernhorst; four German cruisers and a number of German destroyers together with several more U-boats have been destroyed all since Sunday; nearly a dozen ships, some of large tonnage have been sunk or captured in the Skagerrak, Kattegat, the North sea or before Narvik.

which allied losses were only four warships.

Of Britain's losses, Churchill told the house of commons of the destroyers Glowworm and Gurkha and the battleship Rodney and the cruiser Aurora. He said the battleship Rodney was hit by a bomb, seven men injured; battle cruiser Renown, pierced by two German shells; cruiser Aurora, damaged by bombs. He did not mention the destroyers Hunter and Hardy, lost in the battle of Narvik yesterday.

Churchill said Britain was recovering Denmark's Pomerania islands, including the Skagerrak islands, and that they would be recovered in Denmark when the war was over. He said that the British fleet was now in a position to attack the German fleet in the Skagerrak and the Kattegat.

He concluded that by invading Norway "Hitler has doubled the efficiency of the allied blockade."

Some Shipments Helped

"We have suffered from nothing in our blockade so much as from the German (Norwegian) corridor now closed for ever."

"We have won what we need of the blockade."

Churchill said.

The Stars Say—

For Friday, April 12
PERHAPS mediocre progress may best interpret the effect of the planetary operations on this day's doings. There may be some rather surprising or entirely unlooked-for events, with travel, change, removal or new plans and procedures. These may be attended by petty annoyances, disappointments or impediments, begetting minor losses or financial worries, but with sound acumen there may be fair success and pleasant contacts, especially with strangers. The private life is expansive, pleasurable, probably romantic and happy.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year of minor change, with removal, travel, new surroundings, interests and associates. Such reorganization is likely to encounter some small worries, delays and frustrations, with slight loss, either of money or some other substance. Strangers and new places benefit. In the personal life there may be great pleasure, probably sudden romance.
A child born on this day may have much originality, skill and inventive genius, expressed in art, culture or science. It should enjoy much prestige and popularity, with warm friendships among the mighty, who confer dignities and esteem.

The Human Factor Again

ONE guess about what's going to happen to the national labor relations board as the result of investigations is as good as another.
It's more than mildly interesting however to note how defenders are trying to draw critical fire to the board's personnel to get it away from the labor act and the board itself. Sen. Wagner nominal author of the act has taken this position.

The human factor always is important in agencies which are judge jury and prosecutor.
It is particularly susceptible to error. It is an odd circumstance of the times that some of the same persons who attacked the supreme court
for daring to interpret laws in a certain way
are now defending the labor relations board.
The board has power to only to say what the law means but also to decide who shall be punished and to what extent.

Eventually Americans may get so accustomed to being governed by the whims of persons they won't object. It's not an easy habit to develop,
the trials and tribulations of the national labor
relations board show why.

Six Months of Ups and Downs

COMMERCE department's percentage picture
of U S export trade in the first half year
of the war looks like one of those futuristic nightmares—good or bad depending on the individual's taste.

Export trade value is up 33 per cent from the level of 1938.39. Despite heavy increases for Canada and Latin America Europe took 42 per cent of the total.

Europe bought in a narrower market however. It purchased in the United States nothing but war necessities. Trade with blockaded Germany almost disappeared but loss was offset by increased trade with Great Britain and France. Raw cotton, aircraft metal working machinery, iron steel, lubricants and non-ferrous
metals were major items. Tobacco, grains, fruits and automobiles fell off. Further reflecting the impact of war on trade exports to Japan, though 14 per cent above the 1938.39
level fell off 46 per cent between January and the end of February, after abrogation of the United States Japanese trade agreement in January.

Many things might be seen in this picture
by the imaginative but none of them resembled a war boom.

Martha Taft, Pioneer

THE Roosevelt family eyed Americans into
the notion that a chief executive's wife
and daughters don't necessarily wither up
and blow away in the glare of publicity. Mrs.
Roosevelt especially has done some trail blazing but she must divide honors from now on with the wife of Ohio's Sen. Robert A. Taft.
Mrs. Roosevelt emerged as a vital part of her husband's political organization after his election. It was several years, in fact, till voters realized they had elected a president and his wife instead of just a president. First ladies always have been important but Mrs. Roosevelt chose to be important in front of the scenery.

Now comes Mrs. Taft with a new idea.
When her husband ran successfully for the senate in 1938 she ran with him. She is running with him for presidential making speeches
in his—or perhaps its—their—behalf. Oratorically it's as though the senator were two while his wife is off on a tour drumming up votes
he can be doing something else.

This two-for-one business may be the biggest thought in national politics since the high protective tariff. It has possibilities.

Incidental Worries

THERE'S scarcely a worry cell left idle in the average mind at the moment, but while furrowing a brow over the possibility of finding Adolf Hitler asleep on King George's throne
some morning how about the Byrd expedition?
Something has gone haywire. Part of the expedition is back including some of the leaders, and the rest apparently is lingering in antarctic pending approval of an appropriation to bring it home too. Is someone taking care of this matter?

The way things are, it's not impossible the hardy explorers might get mislaid like the Pitcairn islanders. This will inform them if a copy ever reaches antartica that they aren't being entirely forgotten.

Why Call It Off?

THE Walker cup golf matches, announces the Royal and Ancient Golf club of St. Andrews will be called off this year because of the "emergency." The British have more serious things to do than uphold their golfing skill.
Even a non golfer might wonder about that.
Cancellation of a traditional event merely deepens the impression of a world being turned upside down. In the World War the United States continued to play baseball to avert that impression—and it worked.

The British who have been known to knock off for a cup of tea in the middle of emergencies, certainly could have found time for a few rounds of golf between twists on the lions' tail.

News Behind the News

Crisis in Food Fats Seen as Major Cause of Germany's Move Into Scandinavia

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, April 11.—A crisis in food fats within Germany
was one prime inspiration for Hitler's emphatic grasp at Scandinavia. The Germans have managed to keep even their most citizens a knowledge of their most serious deficiencies but tell-tale
rationing has been applied more completely to food fats than to any other commodity.

Practically all fats consumed in Germany are imported, 54 per cent being whale oil.

The Germans will not only take stores of butter, eggs, and bacon
in Denmark but will deprive Britain of a major

source of these supplies, 16 per cent of all British eggs, 22 per cent of its butter,
and one-third of
its bacon have been coming
from the Danes.

While London
has been foraging around in Canada the United States and Australia for substitutes the

Danish conquest will certainly upset the British housewife as much as the British foreign office.

The Germans may be surprised to find whale oil in Norway. The great Norwegian production of this season in the market is now hidden aboard a dozen or more floating factories
secure in South American ports.
They have been stopping there
on their way back to Norway
within the last few weeks.

Britain recently bought two thirds of this production and presumably now will get the rest.

Difficulties

Military advantage which Hitler
is seeking in Scandinavia may turn out to be important but authorities here doubt they were either worth the risk or a factor in the attempt. Norway will afford fairly good submarine bases,
but Hitler does not have enough
submarines to take much advantage of them. Air bases there would bring him no nearer central England than Wilhelmshaven.
Furthermore the long north Norwegian coastline will afford an inviting battleground for the superior British fleet, as long as it is superior.

The new German mine field

from Kristiansand will protect Hitler's line of supplies to the homeland and make his occupation fairly safe. He may now also have steps to secure his supplies of vital iron ore and get more lumber out beyond this.
Automobiles here are waiting to see what use he can make of the new war threat he has opened.

He will have to go to Denmark must import most of her butter and fertilizer. Norway
must get grain, fruits, coffee,
sugar and fodder through the blockade in order to live.

Deception

The deception by which Germany completely screened her move was one of its most striking features. Herman Goerring the German ambassador just a few days earlier threatened a direct assault upon the "legitimate line."
The German press directed attention
southward by announcing attacks
upon British activity in the Mediterranean. A German troop (concentrated against Holland) was even dared as a further lake. Constant daily air bombing attacks were leveled at Scapa Flow to keep the mind of the British fleet occupied.

U S View

The personal alarm within officialdom here centered mainly in the possibility of increased American sentiment for joining the war.

Apprehension appeared unjustified. True the Norwegian coast is close to the Danish protected
Iceland-Greenland air route to the United States but no military man considers German use of those bases within the realm of immediate imagination.

True also there are more than one million Scandinavian born citizens to be added to the more than a million Poles and one-half million Czechs and 370,000
Australians in the United States,
as mourners of German thefts of their former homeland. Uncounted millions more of American citizens spring from the same extractions.

Yet all these will undoubtedly feel their superior allegiance to the security and peace of their new native land.

Mr. Dies' Party Dies

News Men Too Busy To Meet Uncle

MARTIN DIES

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON, April 11.—
Representative Martin Dies
gave a party the other day—and nobody came. Congress. No 1
smeller-outer of subversive propaganda had an uncle from Texas
in town and was showing him
the sights.

On Saturday when all is ordinarily quiet and peaceful here
Mr. Dies spread word among the boys in the house press gallery
that he was having a little luncheon at the Mayflower.
There would be steaks and liquids and things Mr. Dies was not going to make any important announcement. It was said—but who knows what will pop out at a party given by Mr. Dies? And besides there would be Mr. Dies
uncle and just to show uncle
that Mr. Dies had the situation
well in hand there might be a word or two of importance.

Under such circumstances Mr.
Dies no doubt should have gotten a good turnout. Uncle could have told the folks back home in Texas just how solidly Mr. Dies
was in with the Washington press.

But Howard W. Smith of Virginia—the old meanie—threw a curve to Mr. Dies. Mr. Smith's house labor committee came through just at high noon with a big story on their NLRB recommendations—and if there was a man in the house press gallery
that had lunch that day it was Graham crackers and milk about 3 p. m.

Now do you know why Mr.
Dies gave a party and nobody came?

I am still wondering what he told uncle.

All Republicans

Speaking of parties. Representative Foster Stearns of New Hampshire and Mrs. Stearns gave a tea the other day and although you couldn't count the ducks
there wasn't a Democrat in the whole sabotee. Which may show which way the Republicans

around here think the 1940 political wind is blowing.

The fearful communications commission gets the darndest requests. A New Englander wants it to put a ban on war songs. A Pennsylvania object to kiddie serials using the terms Injuns
and Redskins. (What are you listening to those things for anyway, Mister?) An Ohioan says radio shouldn't pay any attention to daylight saving. An Illinois
litterer wants a ban on cooking
recipes that cook up into a mess.
A New Yorker says a certain religious program offends him. A woman in Massachusetts says
she's been cleaning her teeth with a certain tooth paste for weeks
and that the radio commercial as all a lie. An Indiana chap says that astrological stuff on the radio gives him a pain in the neck. A Philadelphia brother wants all old jokes put on the blacklist. (Are you comedians listening?)

The FCC couldn't correct any one of these things if it wanted
to. If you have radio complaints (and who hasn't?) make them to your local station or to the censors.

While we're on the subject of
words and phrases in the ether,
can any one give me a catch phrase for SSSS? Those are the marine radio call letters used since the beginning of the war to mean just the opposite of SSSS. SSSS means stay away from us and generally is used
when a ship spots a submarine in the offing and doesn't want to endanger sister ships. But no one yet has been able to figure out a catch phrase that will make the letters as well known as SOS.

Waiting for Bandwagon
Here's how jittery the silence
of President Roosevelt about his third campaign has made the sides politicians. In 21 states the dates for the Democratic state conventions have not even been set although it's nearing the point when you can count the weeks to the national convention
on your fingers.

Out of the 27 states in which dates have been set there are 15
in which the dates are set by law. In other words in only 12 states have the Democrats had courage even to plan their conventions without knowing what the President is going to do. The point is you can't climb on a bandwagon until you see one. And what are politicians fear most
is setting on the wrong cart.

Italy Seen As Non-Belligerent But With Sympathies Pledged to Germany.

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

IN DEALING with Hitler and Mussolini—which is a synonym
for saying with Germany and Italy—it is wise according to experience to ignore propaganda
and to keep one's eye fixed upon clear statements of policy and upon what these countries actually do. The stratagem may vary from day to day, or it
may be possible
to read two meanings into a statement. For example the anti-Communism
block has certainly gone overboard, the Com-
intern for political usages has become a world philosophy. But behind the agitation against Russia and Communism and behind Italian and German intervention in Spain
was the intention of the Axis powers to break the Franco-Soviet pact and that intention has been fulfilled. Propaganda in the totalitarian states grows out of policy, not policy out of propaganda.

There is at present a tendency in certain circles to belittle the role of Italy and to treat her as though she were a real neutral
whose position is not yet fixed.
These circles find support in what appears to be a difference of attitude between the foreign Minister Ciano, and the Duce. The former is described as anti-war and anti-German. It is said that he had his feelings seriously wounded by Hitler during the interview that took place at Salzburg in August and that since then he has represented a probably or at least a strictly neutral attitude in the government councils. This may be so.

Dorothy Thompson

But there have been differences between Mussolini and his ministers before and in the end they have all been resolved according to the decision of Mussolini and
according to his decision alone.
The policy of Italy has been laid down and repeatedly confirmed. It is that Italy is not neutral. She is in alliance with Germany. Her role for the time being is to be non-belligerent. She will enter the war if and when the Duce deems it advisable or necessary and for the time being she will give every possible diplomatic and political assistance to Germany.

Everything may change in a changing world, but there is no indication that this policy has yet changed. It encounters certain difficulties of a military political and economic nature. These necessitate strict strategy.

The whole situation of Italy ought to suggest keeping on the best possible terms with the largest number of powers as long as she is non-belligerent. Since her part in the war is being conducted at the present time in the fields
of politics and diplomacy she needs as much elbow room as possible. She wants to keep herself the greatest possible freedom
of action in all fields, particularly in the economic field
where she is vulnerable.

Against the British blockade it is useful for her to emphasize her neutrality to hold out hopes from time to time that non-belligerence
may become real neutrality or even neutral befriendment to the Allies. For this purpose Foreign Minister Ciano is very useful. So are a great number of other people who are sincerely and artfully anti-German. A large part of the aristocracy, numerous

prominent northern industrialists,
the upper classes, perhaps generally the Vatican and even the population at large in the opinion
of objective observers.

Aristocracy Doesn't Count
But the aristocracy plays no role whatsoever in the Italy that was founded and is controlled by a revolutionist. The industrialists are tied hand and foot to the government not the government to the industrialists. The Vatican has more influence than it has had in Italy for generations. Plus XII is the most popular Pope and the only Roman to sit in the chair of St. Peter for centuries, but the Vatican has only moral power
and as a member of another totalitarian power earmarked to meet the other day. In our kind of state the sympathies of the people are not very important as long as the leader retains his personal prestige and power. It would be a great mistake to think that the power of the Duce is undermined although it is true that Mussolini has encountered more opposition to a pro-German foreign policy than he has to his domestic policy since the early days of Fascism.

necessary for her to be non-belligerent. Under present condi-

ful to the cause of Germany than

FILES SUIT TO HALT MILK REGULATIONS

Charge Rule Would Force Out Small Producers.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, April 11.—Enforcement of a state regulation requiring a tight partition to separate horses and cows in dairy barns, will force small dairymen out of business and precipitate a milk shortage in the Cleveland-Akron-Canton area, a court suit charged today. Common pleas court set hearing for April 29 on a request to enjoin enforcement.

The action was substituted by the Milk Producers Association of Summit County for a previous suit against John T. Brown state agricultural director and George E. Krider, chief of the division of foods and dairies. Brown and Krider also were named in the new petition along with Enos B. Buchanan of Cleveland, Charles McDonald of Akron and Ward A. Scott of Canton, all agricultural department employees.

E. E. Addison association attorney charged the regulation was unreasonable, illegal and was prompted by moneyed interests trying to drive the small farmers and milk producers out of business.

Madge, Lillian Take Little Measurements Before Leaving to Question Miss Carman

EXPERIENCE has taught me never to be surprised at anything Lillian does, so I did not even arch an eyebrow as she took a tape measure, a pencil and a small pad of paper from a hidden pocket in her gown, and held out the pencil and paper to me.

"We have quite a spot of time before we have to get ready for that call on the old girl," she said, "and we might as well earn our keep while waiting. If you don't mind, I'd like to do some measuring of these wells. I'll call out the numbers to you and have you put 'em down, first drawing a rectangle for each flat surface I measure and labeling it A, B, C, D, etc. Do you care whether marks are put on these walls?"

"Not a whit," I returned truthfully, for her preparations had excited me tremendously.

"Then put a corresponding letter on each wall I measure and of which you copy the measurements," she added. "Here goes!"

She worked swiftly, surely, dictating the measurements as she took them. When she had finished, my small pad of paper was nearly exhausted, but I had a complete record of measurements of every flat surface in the attic.

Prepared for Meeting

Lillian looked at her wrist watch, and made an exasperated gesture.

"We haven't any more time for this now," she said. "We'll have to dress and get going on our errand. And I did so want to check up on these before we went."

"Why?" I asked, although I was fairly sure of her answer.

"Because I'd like to have a place from which we could take off when we talk to the old girl," she said. "If we could tell her that we had discovered certain discrepancies in measurement which made us think there might be a secret passage or stairway, she might—mark you, I say that word doubtfully—she might open her heart—and her mouth—and emit a great thought or two. But as it is, we're handicapped. We can't tell her the truth."

I opened my mouth for a retort which I had no chance to utter, something for which I was thankful, for I needed time to think over the scheme which had flashed upon me. Harry Underwood's voice had sounded from the hall below, and Lillian promptly answered its imperative message.

Strictly Confidential

"What the devil are you girls doing up there?" he asked.

"Nothing particular, just killing time," Lillian answered, putting out her hand as she spoke, and taking from mine the papers with the measurements she had just made. She thrust papers and tape measure into her pocket, and I disposed of the pencil. Evidently she did not intend at present to confound our activities to anyone, and that suited me perfectly.

"Then suppose you kill some by coming down and bidding your old man good-bye," he said in the injured voice which most husbands sound if their wives

16 SCIENTISTS to amaze world with great discovery about CONSTIPATION

Tests of world-famous hospital reveal how Nature's own gentle, complete "daily" bowel movements can be produced

But relief from headaches, indigestion and nervousness due to Constipation. Then feel happier—better of mind, brighter eyes.

AFTER months of intensive tests in one of the world's most famous hospitals—16 scientists have discovered sensational facts about an IDEAL "daily" treatment for constipation. It has been definitely proven that the chief cause of constipation is lack of moisture in the colon. Waste matter then becomes caked, dry, hard and difficult to move out. Constipation often follows with its besetting dull eyes, sallow ruddy skin, and "you're tired" syndrome.

Tests showed that the taking of many cathartics, laxatives, and harsh "purgative" products only made this condition worse.

SUCCESS AT LAST! But these clever men of science found a way to ACTUALLY PRODUCE NATURE'S OWN GENTLE PLEASANT BOWEL ACTION. Simply take a little daily dose of healthy Kruschen, (avoid-famous formula), in a glass of water.

Kruschen now comes in effervescent form—sparkling—"bubbling"—and makes a most pleasant tasting drink. Kruschen keeps waste matter in the colon moist and soft and enables it to be gently expelled from the body. No nausea! No griping! No violent tummy cramps! An IDEAL treatment for more gentle, complete "daily" elimination of harmful poisons, acids and waste. ALSO a splendid mild attack and kidney diuretic. Inexpensive! A jar that lasts. WEEKS costs only a trifle. Over 245,000,000 jars of Kruschen have been sold by drugstores through the world—Kruschen made in U.S.A.

DEWEY AND COCHRAN NEBRASKA WINNERS

Voters Give Definite Decisions In Two Contests.

By The Associated Press
LINCOLN, Neb., April 11.—Victory of Gov. R. L. Cochran over Sen. Edward R. Burke for the Democratic senatorial nomination and by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York over Sen. Arthur Vandenberg in the Republican presidential primary were definite decisions written in Tuesday's primary election.

The Democratic gubernatorial race that probably will have to await the official count for a decision. Fighting for the nomination were Terry Carpenter, Scottsbluff advocate of $30 pensions, and Keith Neville, the state's World War time governor. Carpenter held a lead of approximately 1,800 votes with 1,083 of the state's 2,633 precincts unofficially tabulated. His lead was believed safe.

The totals were Carpenter 87,500; Neville 66,855. The Republican nominated Dwight Griswold with 60,017 votes in 1,940 precincts.

In the presidential preference vote Dewey got 80,005 votes in 1,956 precincts and Vandenberg 72,108. President Roosevelt, unopposed on the Democratic ballot, had 109,386 in the same number of precincts.

Burke's defeat was decisive, the latest figures being Cochran 81,729 in 1,975 precincts; Burke 68,434. The Republican winner was Grainman Hugh Butler of Omaha, with 60,017 in the same number of precincts.

an enormous increase in the efficiency of our blockade." Churchill warned that "Hitler has created a whole series of commitments on the Norwegian coast" for which he now will have to fight against the allies who have "vastly superior naval forces and are able to transport them to the scenes of action more easily than he can."

Churchill told the house that the Norwegians "in their wild and mountainous country" should be able to maintain "vigorous and prolonged resistance" against the German invaders.

"If the Norwegian government had not been so very strict and severe in enforcing her neutrality against us," he said, "it would have been very easy to give them more line and more support than is now possible."

Invasion Long Planned

He charged that German invasion had been "long and elaborately prepared" against a number of small countries and it was only in the small hours of Monday that it was learned "that Norway and Denmark had drawn the unlucky numbers in this lottery."

"It is not the slightest use blaming the allies for not being able to give substantial protection to neutral countries when we are held at arm's length by the countries until they are actually attacked on a scientifically prepared plan by Germany."

He announced that the destroyer Gloworm apparently had been lost Monday morning off the Norwegian coast in a battle with German warships. Her normal complement was 145.

"We can only conclude that the Gloworm was sunk by superior forces of the enemy on Monday morning," Churchill said. "Since then fighting has been conducted night and day."

He said the fleet was cruising "to the south about the level of Bergen" when, on Monday afternoon, "it was continuously attacked by enemy aircraft."

A very heavy bomb fell on the battleship Rodney but her necks, the first lost said, "crashed it." He said the cruiser Aurora was attacked unsuccessfully five times while "the destroyer Gurkha accompanying her was hard hit and sank after four and a half hours and the crew rescued."

"The destroyer Zulu sank a German U-boat off the Orkneys," the first loss disclosed.

"There is no reason," said Churchill, "why a large portion of the crew of the Gloworm should not have been saved if the ordinary humanity of fighting men had been practiced by the enemy."

NORWAY

the Germans and Major Omdahl appointed to head the Norwegian forces in the Narvik region.

Taken by surprise, German troops attempting to advance along the railway east from Narvik were routed before they had time to form battle lines. Hambro declared the Germans retreated without firing a shot.

Hambro said that German forces near Harnar, 80 miles north of Oslo, had been isolated from other contingents except for communication by air.

At Elverum, where King Haakon and Premier Johan Nygaardsvold told the German minister of Norway's determination to resist the German invasion, all was quiet today after a German thrust into the region had been repulsed last night.

(The German high command communique today, conflicting with this report, said Elverum was captured yesterday.)

(In London, Reuters, British news agency, quoted the Stockholm newspaper Dagbladet Nyheter as reporting the Norwegian government transferred from Elverum to Nybergund, about 15 miles from the Swedish border.)

(This information, however, said King Haakon was staying at Elverum, southwest of Nybergund.)

Many Ships Halted

British sea forces attempting to keep the Germans from landing supplies or reinforcements in Norway, were said to have intercepted 10 large troopships, sinking at least five, setting one afire, damaging at least one other and driving one into haven in Sweden.

The newspaper Svenska Dagbladet reported Narvik, Norwegian air-shiping port, retaken by the British and the German garrison there dispersed after a futile attempt to flee into Sweden. (The German high command called this a "false English report.")

At Elverum, meanwhile, Premier Johan Nygaardsvold issued a proclamation declaring that Norway would not submit to German demands that she become a protectorate and King Haakon, declaring his faith in his people's will to fight, concurred.

Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvdan Koht, asked how his government considered Britain's declaration that Norway was now her ally, responded:

"We are at war with Germany, thereby in alliance with others at war with Germany. Besides that, we have concrete offers of assistance from England and France."

Koht declared Norway was "determined to do everything" to stay free of German rule.

HOUSE CONSIDERING BUGABOO QUESTION

Decennial Reapportionment to Follow Census Reports.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The house gingerly took up today a decennial bugaboo—a bill providing for reapportionment of its members on the basis of the new census.

The measure, by Rep. Warren (D-N.C.), would be a political death sentence for some representatives from states which lose in population and which therefore would be allotted fewer members.

These seats would go to states which gain in population, so that the house membership would continue at 435.

One argument of proponents for bringing up the legislation now is that it will be easier to pass before the census returns show which states will lose.

Most congressmen regarded the legislative program well on its way toward completion, although there appeared to be doubt whether controversial amendments to the Wagner act could be debated in time for an early June adjournment.

Some Republicans were demanding that congress remain on the job to see that the United States does not become involved in the European war, but administration leaders went ahead with plans to wind up the session shortly after June 1.

REPORTS AMERICANS SAFE IN NORWAY

U. S. Envoy in Oslo Contacts State Department.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The American legation at Oslo, Norway, has broken through the wall of silence separating it from the state department for nearly two days and announced that all Americans there are well so far as known.

The department reported today that Raymond E. Cox, first secretary of the legation at Oslo, arranged for the departure last night of members of the British legation and consular staff including their families, totaling 18 persons, and that one member of the French legation staff, they went by rail to Stockholm.

Last night's contact was made at 9 p. m. The last previous telegram from Cox had been received at the state department at 11 a. m. Tuesday. It was interrupted when the telegraph operator signaled that an air raid had begun and he had to run.

The state department also has heard from the American minister to Norway, Mrs. J. Borden Harman, who was at an unnamed point in the interior of the war-torn country.

PRESIDENT ORDERS AGENCIES SHIFTED

WASHINGTON, April 11.—A broad government reorganization plan, designed to save $300,000 annually and produce "more efficient service," was submitted to congress today by President Roosevelt.

Affecting most of the executive departments and several independent agencies, the fourth reorganization plan recommended by Mr. Roosevelt projected these major revisions in the government set-up:

1. Putting the civil aeronautics authority, now an independent agency, into the structure of the commerce department.

The President ordered abolition of the air safety board, a CAA agency, and merger of its function of investigating airplane accidents into functions of the civil aeronautics board.

2. Transferring the weather bureau from the agriculture department to the commerce department.

3. Shifting the food and drug administration from the agriculture department to the federal security administration, except for two activities considered closely related to agriculture—involving insecticides and naval stores.

ALLIES TO GET LATE MODEL U. S. PLANES

Go Ahead Signal Given for Purchases Here.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 11.—As Europe's war blazed in its fiercest heights today, the Franco-British allies got the long sought "go ahead" signal for purchase of latest type American fighting planes.

Simultaneously the navy, with one eye on Europe, decided to expedite the construction of 10 new warships and refit three submarines. In congress, opposition appeared against proposed reductions in the fleet building program.

The war department cleared the allied way yesterday by releasing for export three of the air corps newest pursuit ships, all credited with speed of 400 miles an hour or better. The planes are designed to prey on raiding bombers and to fight off any faster craft accompanying them.

The action promised an end to the allied delay in placing an estimated $1,000,000,000 order for about 8,000 American military planes and 13,000 engines. The contracts had been held up because the allies claimed that anything but the latest type planes would be outclassed by the enemy by the time mass deliveries began a year hence.

The planes released here: the Bell P-39, known as the Alrocobra and said to be one of the world's fastest pursuit ships; the Lockheed P-38, a two-motored, heavily-armed interceptor craft, and an improved model of the Curtiss P-40, an advance type of the pursuit ship which already has been praised by the French for its performance against the Nazi Messerschmitt.

GERMANY

Scandinavia there appeared a hint that newly occupied bases might be used for bombing attacks on England.

Advantages Offered

The Berlin newspaper Lokal Anzeiger declared that Germany, after having successfully repulsed the British destroyer attack on the Norwegian port of Narvik, "will not permit herself to be attacked continuously in Denmark and Norway."

The newspaper added that all the possibilities which these areas offer will be employed "for the defense of northern Europe and for the protection of the two occupied countries."

Meanwhile the accumulation of reports on Germany's far-flung Scandinavian operations filled in a startling picture of the Nazi sweep to put Denmark and Norway in a sort of "protective custody" at least as long as the war is on.

DNB, official news agency, reported confiscation of five British steamers loaded with cannon, machine guns and other war materials at Bergen, Norway, adding that their presence there indicated previous intentions by the allies to land an expeditionary force in Scandinavia.

The high command announced that German troops had occupied the Danish Baltic island of Bornholm without difficulty. The island is about 25 miles from Sweden's southern tip.

It also was reported that certain Norwegian coastal batteries had been taken over for defense and that Norwegian defense forces "readily agreed" to participate in air protection against the allies.

No Sudden Blow

Evidence from quasi-official and authoritative sources indicates that the German movement on Norway and Denmark was not so much a sudden conceived blow as a plan designed over several days to circumvent what was officially interpreted as a British intention to use the northland as a base for attack against the reich.

The presence of German troops and ships distributed as far north as Narvik, hundreds of miles north of the nearest German port, so quickly on the heels of the first announcement of intent to swing a "protective arm" over Norway and Denmark was noted.

To observers this seemed to be solid evidence that the move was planned perhaps days—rather than hours—in advance.

It appears that at least some of the first troops of occupation were transported to Norway by plane. Ports and cities many miles apart in the two Scandinavian countries were taken almost simultaneously.

This morning's newspapers unanimously featured what they described as a German victory over the British navy's attempts to land forces in Norway.

Adolf Hitler's Volkskeiser Beebachelor carried the streamer: "English and French landing fleet destroyed."

Allies Win Great Moral Victory in Stand for Norway

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The Anglo-French brotherhood has served its cause right well thus far in the battle of the Norwegian main.

The spirit of Nelson surely was abroad among the English ships as they maneuvered against the enemy on the green waves of the storm-lashed north sea and drove their steel noses fearlessly into hostile waters.

With the action still continuing it is too early to talk of final results, but we can say that the allies already have won a far-reaching moral victory.

Few things could do more to raise British and French prestige among the neutrals at a critical moment when some of them had begun to believe that the allied governments were indeed, as their own people charged, lacking in initiative against the blitzkrieg methods of Herr Hitler.

Man Behind The Guns

And so I feel constrained to ask the reader to meet once more Britain's first lord of the admiralty, Winston Churchill—the man behind the gun in this demonstration of naval might and prowess against the Nazi invasion of Scandinavia.

Mr. Churchill was the political lone wolf who the other day was elevated through public insistence to the directorship of war operations for his Britannie majesty.

The public demanded greater initiative, and figured that this many-sided genius was the one to give it to them.

He was, and he is. He personally has been keeping sleepless vigil over the great maps at the admiralty. Win, draw or lose, the English navy under his direction and electric inspiration has during the past 48 hours upheld the centuries' old tradition of valor and superb efficiency.

This exhibition of initiative—by far the greatest of its kind shown up to now by the allies—would seem to justify that back-handed but quite attractive boast of the Briton, invariably running something like this:

"We are such a bungling people as a whole that it's really most extraordinary how we survive— but somehow we always manage to muddle through."

Halifax Looks Ahead

It also affords some grounds for the declaration yesterday by British Foreign Minister Lord Halifax that the mighty allied war-machine in his "humble judgment must in the end prove irresistible."

The struggle for control of Scandinavia has strewn powder-trails throughout Europe. It seems almost inevitable that the conflict should spread.

Watch the Balkans! An upheaval may come there at any moment.

The supplies of this rich area, especially Rumania's oil are absolutely vital to Germany. Most observers expect that Hitler will either assure himself control of Rumania and her oil wells immediately or, failing that, occupy that country.

FOUR KILLED IN GUN BATTLE OVER SHEEP

By The Associated Press
MONTE VISTA, Colo., April 11.—A family quarrel over sheep provoked a gun fight in which three men and a woman were killed and her son critically injured on a southern Colorado ranch last night.

Police Chief Max Richardson said Pat Maes, 50, operator of a sheep ranch, admitted killing Raymond Martinez, 38, Corpus County deputy sheriff; Marie Ortega, 40, Maes' brother-in-law, and Edward Dominguez, 30.

Maes' confession said he shot the three with a rifle after Martinez had shot Mrs. Maes, 44, and her son, Frank, 22.

Mrs. Maes, mother of 10 children, died today.

French Prepare for Hard Fighting on Western Front

By The Associated Press
PARIS, April 11.—Formal advice to the French to be prepared for possible heavy fighting on the western front was issued today by military authorities and circulated to newspapers by the semi-official Havas news agency.

"The events in north Europe should not lead us to forget our front between the Moselle and the Rhine," the statement said. "This front may blaze up from one day to the other. At various points preparations have been observed which could indicate that an attack is coming."

Premier Paul Reynaud, who was visited this morning by United States Ambassador William Bullitt, will address the chamber of deputies this afternoon, it was announced.

French pursuit ships shot down two German scouting planes when they attempted to approach Paris this morning, the high command announced.

An authorized commentator said the air fight took place near the capital.

Scouting patrols on both sides of the front continued to feel out each other and seek information on troop placement.

Military quarters said that complete measures had been taken to throw the full force of the French army against the Germans in case of attack.

HOLLAND

ablaze with oil-soaked burlap sacks.

When court resumed this morning with Common Pleas Judge Paul Klapp presiding, the prosecution and Defense Attorney Leo Faust, together with Henry Scarlett of Columbus representing the Mill Mutual Fire Prevention Bureau, which is supposed to have carried the insurance on the Holland Mills, Inc., engaged in long conferences over procedure.

Two police witnesses were called to establish the fact that there had been a fire, then Clifton M. Kolb of Cleveland, secretary of the Glidden Co., was called. The company owned the burned mill.

He testified that in the fall of 1937 Holland came to the company and told them he was going to quit at Old Fort Mills, Inc., of Marion, of which he was formerly vice president and secretary and one of the founders.

At Holland's suggestion, Kolb said, the company agreed to start the Holland Mills at Piqua with Holland as president and general manager at a salary of $500 a month. Holland was to receive half the profits.

The mill was set up as a subsidiary of the Glidden Co., but was a separate corporation. The terms were that any time after Jan. 1, 1939, the company could dissolve the mill after giving Holland 60 days' notice.

Tells of Company Change
Hence, when no profits were made in 1938, the company decided to dissolve the mill as a separate corporation and make it a part of the Glidden Co., Kolb said. Holland had not taken advantage of the 60-day notice to seek other connections, so he was made manager and the mill became the Holland Mills division of the Glidden Co., Kolb said.

In the summer of 1939 the company discovered Holland was spending considerable time establishing and serving as a silent partner in several retail outlets so he was called in and told he would have to devote full time to his management, which also paid $500 monthly, Kolb related.

On Oct. 15, Holland resigned from the Holland Mills and shortly thereafter started the Holland Pioneer Mills at Piqua in competition with the Glidden concern.

Tells of Sale
Kolb said the fire put the company out of business and in January all the formulae, trade marks and good will were sold to Old Fort Mills, Inc., of Marion.

Colb was to continue on the stand this afternoon.

O. W. U. SPEAKER

DR. ERNEST F. TITTLE

as they were, he could have dispensed with, "Gracie," she said, "that a visit, even properly chaperoned by a housekeeper, is improper, would you mind informing me who appointed you the guardian of my conduct?"

"Adelaide asked me to speak to you."

"And why you? Why not Eric? Or Hugh himself? Or Judge Harper? Why, of all the masculine residents in The Street, must I be asked to speak to you?"

"MacKelvey be requested to remonstrate with me? I'd love," she murmured low and sweetly, "to know if I would."

"Mac fidgeted on the step. It only he had heeded that inner warning and refused to do Adelaide's bidding in this matter! But he was a person of determination. Having put his hand to the plow, he would not turn back. He said seriously:

"Perhaps because I'm the only one who is interested enough in you to want to keep you from making a mistake? You see, Hugh is a little different from most people—from the rest of us. His wife—"

"At that one hundred pounds of curls, dimples, blue eyes and ruffled orange exploded.

"Oh, pooh! And I told! And I told!—de-dee! What is there so improper in my stopping into any body's studio for a chat? Even if Hugh Salts has forty wives and they've all left him, it would be perfectly moral and upright—for me to call on him! I mean! Aunt Anne told me The Street was very conventional. She didn't tell me it was prim and prissy and—"

"And ally!" she ended emphatically. "And even if everybody else has to be like that, you don't!"

"The afterthought came in a lone so he had to bend his head to catch it.

"I want you to be happy!"

"I agree with you it's silly," Mac admitted. "Salts is a fine chap and there's no reason on earth why you shouldn't spend the afternoon in his studio if you like; no reason except that Miss Ormond and a few others around here will be shocked and make it uncomfortable for you."

"He smiled down at her placatingly. 'I want you to be happy here, Brenda! I want you to like The Street—everybody on it! One has to make concessions to almost every place one stays. You said they wouldn't take your writing seriously in New York. Well, that's the objection there. Here, it's an old-fashioned and perhaps too slavish adherence to the conventions. All I ask is—'

"But she continued to shake her head.

"It's time some one came along and taught them sense! They need a sense of proportion instead of a sense of the proprieties."

"You mean," he spoke gravely, "that you intend going to the studio just the same?"

"Just the same; or perhaps a little oftener."

"He rose. "You're a very foolish child then. Good night!"

"It was almost dusk when Eric Mason, on his way to keep an engagement for the evening, nearly stumbled over the little figure on the steps.

"Brenda! My word. What're you mooning out here for?"

"She replied with dignity: 'I'm not mooning. I'm revolving a very important ethical question in my mind.'"

"He grinned, dropped companionably down beside her and lighted a cigaret.

"The question being: shall you or shall you not yield to the prevailing sentiment against your going to see Salts. Don't yield," he advised briefly. "Stand your ground."

"Does everybody in the house know the situation?" She sounded startled.

"In the house? You mean on

The Street? My dear girl, I'd be willing to lay you a pretty penny that the sole topic of conversation in ten houses at this dramatic moment is Miss Brenda Burnham and her dropping in on Hugh yesterday afternoon. You can't sneeze in this neighborhood," he continued pathetically, "without sixteen people calling you and recommending their favorite nose drops, or cold remedy."

"But why? Why are they so interested in other people's affairs?"

"Because they have none of their own. Take Miss Ormond now. I can give a shrewd guess that she started all this. She has no life of her own—and I mean none, too! She can't read—I think her eyes bother her—she has no family, and I believe she's outlived most of her friends. There isn't much for the poor old soul to do but snoop about, watching the rest of us as we go our ways."

"Are you defending her?"

"Brenda inquired in astonishment. 'Merely explaining her.'"

"He tossed away his cigaret. 'Judge Harper's another, only his interest is more friendly than Miss Ormond's. Then there's Miss Arnold and her Dorothy—'

"Her daughter?"

"More warnings."

"He chuckled. 'Her maid. She took Dorothy out of an orphan asylum more than twenty years ago. The heavy responsibility of the act still weighs on her. It was after Mr. Arnold was killed in a railroad accident and she felt she must have someone to live with her. Get Adelaide to tell you some day how long Mrs. Arnold's weighed the pros and cons of her act. It shook The Street, and Mrs. Arnold herself has never quite recovered from it.'"

"How old is Dorothy now, for heaven's sake?"

"Thirty-three; and the homeliest woman the Lord ever let live. But to hear Mrs. Arnold, you'd be justified in believing Dorothy to be a dream of pulchritude and the benefactor burdened with the heaviest responsibility ever placed on a woman's frail shoulders."

"He laughed again. 'Want to make me a bet, Brenda? It's this: Mrs. Arnold will call on you soon and ask you—sweetly and anxiously—not to do anything which might exert a wrong influence on Dorothy. She'll say that since she's made herself responsible for Dorothy's whole social and moral welfare she simply must be on her guard against anything which even faintly hints of Bohemianism!'

"Brenda said in a wilted voice: 'I don't believe a word of this, Eric!'

"A carton of cigarettes against five pounds of chocolates? Don't! He stood up. 'You're in a different world now, my child. It's a pretty kind and nice world, all things considered, but... it needs some getting used to. You'll see. This chuckle floated after him as he strode toward the sidewalk."

"Brenda was due for one more warning before she slept. Isobel Burke knocked just as the younger girl was unearthing her face. Brenda, catching sight of her in the mirror, made a little moue of defiance."

"Now don't you begin, Isobel!"

"M'm! So they've been at you already, have they? Who was it? The Ormond?"

"Better ask me who it wasn't!"

"I saw Mac edge out after you. Isobel seated herself and viewed her small hostess with relief. 'I suppose Adelaide sicked him onto it! Then she interrupted herself to say: 'You look about ten in that thing, Brenda!'

"Brenda glanced down at the thin peach-colored robe she wore. It was a frivolous garment, inset with lace, hand-hemmed, sleeveless and almost backless."

"It's cool!"

"It's lovely—and probably cost as much as I make in a month! I can't understand," she went on somberly, "why with all your money—and Adelaide says you have scads—you choose to come and live in a funny old place like this! A place," she went on oratorically, "where your business is everybody's business; where there isn't one single man, woman or child who is interesting—except Mac!—in the whole block. A place—"

"And then an odd thing happened. Brenda, who had so lately castigated The Street to Mac and Eric, who had been, at the exact moment Isobel knocked, telling herself passionately that tomorrow would see her trunk packed and her ticket bought for New York, now turned quite angrily on the red-haired girl who lounged in her rocker.

"I think there's something really sweet about the way everyone looks after one! I really like the interest people show in each other's affairs! I think they're all interesting, even Miss Ormond! I'm simply delighted that I'm going to live here a whole year!"

When kidneys are continually overburdened they often become weak—the bladder is irritated—often passage is scanty and painful and burns—sleep is restless and nightly visits to the bathroom are frequent.

A safe, harmless and inexpensive way to relieve this trouble and help restore more healthy action to kidneys and bladder is to get from any drugstore a 25 cent box of GOLD MEDAL HARTMAN OIL Capsules and take as directed.

Don't be an EASY MARK and accept a substitute—GOLD MEDAL HARTMAN OIL Capsules—the original—the genuine right from Hartman in Holland. Look for the Gold Medal on the box—15 cents.

Remember—other symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble may be backache, puffiness, nervousness and leg cramps.

MEETING SET ON FIRE LEVY

City Officials and Community Leaders To Discuss Rate Boost Problem.

City officials and community leaders will confer tomorrow night at 7:30 in the office of Mayor Snare to decide what should be done with recommendations of the National Board of Fire Underwriters for costly improvements to the city's fire protection system.

Officials see two chief courses of action:

1. To propose a tax levy at the May primaries to finance the improvements.

2. To ignore the board's recommendations and run the risk of having the insurance companies raise rates on property, excluding strictly residential property. It is estimated the boost in premiums would run about $25,000 annually.

The cost of the improvements is estimated at between $50,000 and $80,000.

Invitations were extended for tomorrow night's meeting to representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber, Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary clubs, Central Labor Union (A. F. of L.) and C.I.O. unions, P.-T. A., federated clubs and other groups.

The purpose of the Friday night meeting is to obtain a picture of public opinion on the fire protection question. Mayor Snare contends that if the public does not wish to get behind a tax levy proposal, it is of no use to put one on the ballot.

It is possible, he said, that questions other than fire protection may be brought up at the meeting, although nothing else is scheduled. Relief financing is the other chief problem of the administration.

Kenyon To Continue Prize Scholarship Competition

Aerial View of Kenyon College.

GAMBIER, O.—Kenyon college announced today that it will continue its newest educational experiment by holding again this year a competition for twelve

$1,600 prize scholarships, full tuition for four years, for outstanding secondary school seniors. In addition to the student's school record, a personal interview, and character recommendations, the student will compete in his strongest subject. The prize scholarship examinations will be held in Gambier, New York, Philadelphia, Detroit, Chicago, Pittsburgh, and other centers on April 21th. Each contestant will choose the subject that most interests him from mathematics, chemistry, physics, biology, French, Spanish, German, Greek, Latin, English and American literature, English writing (a one thousand-word essay), and history, and write on that one subject alone.

Kenyon's purpose in adopting this scholarship program, similar to that of Cambridge and Oxford, but little used in this country, is with the view of a positive approach to give the student a chance to show his ability in a subject of his own choice rather than to reveal scattered weaknesses in a number of subjects.

New Dealers See Election Results As 3rd Term Command to Roosevelt

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 11.—New Dealers in congress contended today that President Roosevelt's lopsided lead in midwestern primaries makes it virtually impossible for him to refuse a third term nomination.

Senator Norris (Ind-Neb), a third term advocate, told reporters: "The primaries in Wisconsin, Illinois and Nebraska indicate two things—that there is quite a strong movement toward the Republican party, and, more conclusively, that Roosevelt is stronger than his party."

Norris said that the primary results, coupled with the spread of the European war, "will drive all elements of the Democratic party who want to elect a president to Roosevelt's support."

"The President must accept whether he likes it or not," he added. Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) expressed a similar opinion, declaring that "the people won't take 'no' for an answer" to the third term question. Another administration senator, Murray (D-Mont), asserted that "sentiment for the President is so powerful it would be very difficult for him to escape running again."

But Senator Wheeler (D-Mont), reiterated his belief that Mr. Roosevelt would not run.

"Any President can renominate himself," Wheeler said. "But the President is too politically-wise to let the office holders and his many admirers jockey him into a position where he would have everything to lose and nothing to gain from the standpoint of his place in history or his own personal happiness."

FOUR HURT IN TRAFFIC HERE

Three Automobiles and Motorcycle Figure in Two Accidents.

Four motorists suffered minor injuries in two traffic mishaps here yesterday afternoon, one a two-car collision at Wilson and Boone avenues and the other a motorcycle accident at North State and George streets.

Injured in the automobile accident were J. W. Llewellyn of 212 St. James street, Mrs. Anna Bowers of 289 South Seltzer avenue and her 10-year-old grandson, Robert Bowers of 249 Uhler avenue. Mr. Llewellyn suffered a minor head laceration, Mrs. Bowers body bruises and Robert Bowers a scalp wound and a shoulder injury, police reported.

Willard Brady, 21, of 129 Short street suffered bruises and abrasions of the left leg and knee when the motorcycle he was riding overturned. He was taken to City hospital in the Boyd ambulance but was released after receiving first aid treatment.

Cause of Accident

Mr. Llewellyn and Mrs. Bowers, drivers of the cars involved in the East Side accident, told police they were both watching a group of small children playing in the street and failed to see the other car approaching. The Llewellyn car was eastbound on Wilson and the Bowers car southbound on Boone.

The impact of the crash hurled both Mrs. Bowers and her grandson from the car. Mrs. Bowers' husband, Willis Bowers, another passenger in the car, was badly shaken up but was not injured. Both autos were badly damaged.

Police were told the motorcycle accident occurred when Brady, northbound on State street, stopped his motorcycle suddenly to avoid a collision with a car driven by J. G. Beard of 477 West Columbia street. Mr. Beard, westbound on George street, told officers he stopped for the intersection but failed to see the motorcycle approaching and started across.

Tire marks showed that the motorcycle skidded approximately 75 feet when Brady attempted to stop and finally overturned at the northeast corner of the intersection, officers reported. Ernest Brady, 27, of 189 Short street, a brother of Willard, was also riding on the motorcycle but was not injured.

Ashley, Marion Cars Meet

Minor damage resulted to cars driven by Mrs. Gertrude Rowley of 275 Nye street and Peres Ziegler of near Ashley when they collided at West Center and Davis street about 8 p. m. yesterday. Police were told that the Ziegler car struck the rear section of the Rowley car when the latter stopped for a stop light.

QUIET PREVAILS AT AKRON RUBBER PLANT

Union Says 1,100 of 1,200 Employees on Strike.

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., April 11—Quiet prevailed today at the General Tire & Rubber Co. plant where the C.I.O.-United Rubber Workers called a strike.

Ten pickets paraded in front of the main gate at 6 a. m., the hour for changing shifts, but no workers attempted to enter. None entered the plant for last night's shift.

Joseph Childs, union president, estimated 1,100 of the approximately 1,200 persons employed were idle.

Childs said the union would attempt to open negotiations with the company as soon as possible. Company officials declined comment.

Police Capt. Sam Williams, in charge of a small detail at the plant, reported there had been no disturbance. The union voted the strike late yesterday, 640 to 150.

Childs said the company violated a clause of its contract which specifies its procedure for settling grievances. He specifically charged the company with "chiseling on rates of pay, attempting to break down the six-hour day and refusing to adjust grievances within a reasonable time after presentation."

Roosevelt Issues Order To Protect Assets of Invaded Nations in U. S.

WASHINGTON, April 11—The United States took unprecedented action today to assure Norway and Denmark on the safety of their several hundred million dollars in holdings in this country.

Foreseeing any possible German attempt to confiscate this rich store of foreign exchange for the Nazi war chest, President Roosevelt by executive order prohibited the removal from America of any Danish and Norwegian assets, monetary or otherwise.

He took this step late yesterday shortly after extending the combat zone of European waters from which American ships are banned.

He added not only the Russian coast but also the Russian ports of Murmansk and Archangel, where the Soviets have special privileges under the recent peace treaty. Waters around the British Isles, France, the Netherlands, Belgium and Germany previously were closed.

Three ships headed for Norway were called back from mid-ocean, and efforts were instituted to get three others out of perilous Scandinavian ports.

Two important government decisions were held in abeyance pending more complete information from the war zone. The first was the question whether Denmark and Norway should be formally designated belligerents under the neutrality act, and made subject to its cash-and-carry provision. The second concerned the $20,000,000 in credits recently granted the two countries.

President Roosevelt's sweeping order protecting Danish-Norwegian investments here covered both the governments and citizens of the nations as of April 8, or before the Nazi invasion.

The treasury promptly instructed all holders of Danish or Norwegian wealth in this country to

Four attacks on sheep by dogs, three involving the same flock, are listed on the report of County Dog Warden Elmer Ullom for the week ended April 7.

Six dogs took part in three attacks on a flock owned by O. Linn of near Marion. The attacks occurred over a three-day period. Three dogs were captured and three others destroyed. Damage was slight, Warden Ullom reported.

Mr. Mitchell entered a not guilty plea at arraignment in municipal court. The case is still pending.

AMERICAN CHEMIST DEVISES POWERFUL TYPE GASOLINE

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, Associated Press Science Editor

CINCINNATI, O., April 11—A new American gasoline named Triplan, which gives on bench tests 50 per cent more power than the best military fuels anywhere in the world, was described to the American Chemical society today.

Less spectacular, but equally important for leadership in aviation, was a new laboratory eye, described by a group of college professors as able to look at hydrocarbons, the stuff that makes gasoline, and give data for calculating an endless list of new types of gasoline.

"The developments," said Dr. Gustav Egloff of Chicago, "make it certain that United States refining facilities can produce any conceivable quantity of fuels for United States aviation, and if needed, for all the world."

Triplan has been tried only in laboratories. Its 50 per cent extra power is obtained without adding lead, which will increase the power possibly by another 20 per cent.

Another new American gasoline, already used in experimental U. S. planes and being shipped abroad, raises the power, speed and climb about 20 per cent, Dr. Egloff added. This new fuel is called neohexane.

The laboratory eye is a spectroscopic and reveals the rate at which atoms vibrate in hydrocarbons.

The vibration means power. Knowing the energy, mathematical experts are able to predict what new combinations of hydrocarbons are possible and how much useful power may be expected.

YOUNG FARMERS' GROUP CLOSES STUDY SEASON

The Pleasant Township Young Farmers' association, a group of young men out of school who are interested in farming, closed a season of study with a fish fry Monday night at the Pleasant Township school. The season opened in September and during the winter months the members studied farm mechanics and farm machinery. Milford Schmidt, vocational agriculture teacher, is the adviser. The club will have several social meetings in the summer and will convene for study next September. The supper Monday night was served to 27 members by Miss Gladys Unclinger, home economics instructor, and six freshman girls. Cards and a social hour followed.

Four attacks on sheep by dogs, three involving the same flock, are listed on the report of County Dog Warden Elmer Ullom for the week ended April 7.

Six dogs took part in three attacks on a flock owned by O. Linn of near Marion. The attacks occurred over a three-day period. Three dogs were captured and three others destroyed. Damage was slight, Warden Ullom reported.

Investigating the claim of Howard T. Mitchell of near Marion for a ewe killed by dogs, Warden Ullom filed a charge of harboring a dog without a license against Mr. Mitchell. Two dogs were found at the Mitchell farm, one of which was unlicensed. Warden Ullom reported.

Mr. Mitchell entered a not guilty plea at arraignment in municipal court. The case is still pending.

Value of the ewe destroyed on the Mitchell farm was placed at $5 by the appraisers, Ralph Roseberry and C. L. Shepherd.

Ten other dogs were impounded during the week, Warden Ullom reported.

Tableaux will be given by members of the league and there will be selections by a young people's choir. Arrangements are in charge of Misses Dora Schlect and Betty Ann Kraus.
